ALL THE HOME NEWS

Slack, like rust, consumes faster than labor wears, while the work key is always bright.—Poor Richard's Almanac.

Nathan Hawk, the original pony express rider, and the man who took the first news of the discovery of gold in California to the Eastern States, died recently at the Soldiers' Home in Yountville, Napa county, Calif.

To Jack Combs belongs the additional distinction of being the only American League pitcher who escaped having a home run made off his delivery. Jake Stahl made the only home run hit of the season off Pitcher Bender. Eddie Collins has the honor of being the only player to make a homer off the great Walter Johnson.—(Sporting Life.)

The highest price ever paid for a codfish at Gloucester, constituting a world's record price, it is believed, was recorded last week when the catch of the schooner Hattie A. Hackman was disposed of at the rate of $5.50 a hundred pounds for large fish and $5 a hundred for medium size fish and "snappers." Locally, the fish which brought this record price is known as eastern deck hand-line cod. The previous high record was made during the Civil War.

ANOTHER FISHERMAN'S VIEWS

Sees No Justice in Kicking About Seiners When There is Such Ruthless Waste by Smelt Dippers in Spring.

Lawry, Dec. 5.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Having read a Vinalhaven man's view and Warden N. J. Hanna's letter in regard to seining laws on bays and inlets off the Maine coast, I would like to add a few words. I certainly agree with Warden Hanna in regard to Medomak river seining law, Act to protect smelts, but instead of a closed time of five years for dipping smelts, make it ten years. Residents on Medomak River grow and kick about the seiners killing all the smelts, and at the same time every spring they wade into the brooks from Round Pond to the head of the river and dip spawn smelts and destroy the spawns. Worst of all, they do not make any good use of them. They do it simply to see how many they can dip, carry them by wheelbarrow loads and feed them to hens or spread them on their land to make the grass grow.

When winter comes they put their smelt houses on the ice and if they catch no fish, they say the smelt seiners caught them all before they got in the river.

When a man freezes himself in the winter, trying to earn bread for his family, smelt seining, they are all ready to complain of him to the fish commissioner, but still there is no law that prohibits the weimen from destroying them in summer in their weirs. Yet they will say the seiners are killing all the fish in lots of cases. The weimen went seining first, to get the money to build a weir. Then if he gets no fish he will swear about the seiners killing the fish nights while he was asleep.

Let me tell you Mr. Weir Fisherman that a herring seiner or a smelt seiner earns all he gets. Do not for a minute think that seining porgies has killed them all, for the Atlantic Fertilizer & Oil Co. is still doing business at Promised Land, N. Y. They are having three 15-knot boats built this winter. They are not all driven away or killed west of Cape Cod, after being seined for 20 years.

A FISHERMAN.

WANT JIM'S JOB

Two Lincoln County Men Would Like To Succeed Commissioner Donohue.

Lincoln county has two Democratic aspirants for appointment to the berth of State Commissioner of sea and shore fisheries to succeed James Donohue. They are William G. Hodgkins of Damariscotta and C. B. Meserve of Bristol. Both are engaged in the fish business. Mr. Hodgkins has long been prominent in politics, having twice been elected to the legislature as a representative, has twice been a candidate for sheriff and has been a strong party worker. Mr. Meserve has for years been chairman of the board of selectmen of Bristol and upon Jan. 1 will commence his fifth term as a deputy sheriff of John B. Rafter's staff. It is understood that Eastport also has a candidate. Commissioner Donohue's term does not expire until two years from next February by which time there is likely to be a marked down sale of Democratic candidates for state offices in Maine.

The 75th Legislature will have several town dividing jobs according to present prospects. It was York county that disturbed the 74th Legislature with its town division fights but this year the storm center in that respect is likely to be Lincoln county. East Boothbay wants to be separated from Boothbay just as 20 years ago Boothbay Harbor got itself divorced from the old town on account of a water fight. The last candidate for separate town existence is South Bristol, the "Island" wishing to be set apart from the farming community comprising the older part of the town on account of its summer resort interests.

The Child's First Grief

"O call my brother back to me,
I cannot play alone!
The summer comes with flower and bee—
Where is my brother gone?"

The butterfly is glancing bright
Across the sunbeam's track,
I care not now to chase its flight,
O call my brother back!

The flowers run wild—the flowers we sowed
Around our garden true!
Our vine is drooping with its load—
O call him back to me!"

"He would not hear my voice, fair child!
He would not come to thee;
The face that once like springtime smiled,
On earth no more thou'lt see."

The rose's brief, bright life of joy,
Such unto him was given;
Go, then, must play alone, my boy!
Thy brother is in Heaven."

And must I call in vain?
And through the long, long summer hours,
Will he not come again?"

And by the brook, and in the glade,
Are all our wanderings o'er?
Oh! while my brother with me played,
Would I had loved him more!"

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, December 17, 1910.
I, the undersigned, being the publisher of the above-named newspaper, do hereby certify that the circulation of the same for the week ending December 15, 1910, was as follows:

Eighteen deaths resulted from foot-ball this season. Sixty-five collar bones head the known list of injuries, and 40 broken legs, 37 broken noses, 31 broken ribs, 20 broken ankles, 17 broken fingers, and 11 broken wrists follow in order. Most of the injuries were to untrained or immature lads. Glancing at this awful array of tragedies and casualties it would not seem as if the revision of rules aided greatly on the side of safety, but turning back to the record of 1909 we find that there were 29 deaths and hundreds of injuries. Football is a vigorous game; in fact there seems to be a great deal of risk to anything that's worth having.

GOVERNMENT GETS PROPERTY

One of the most important cases before Judge Hale in the U. S. District Court at Portland last week concerned the matter of taking land on Monroe and Sheep Islands off Owl's Head, under act of June 24th in what is termed condemnation proceedings, the land being desirable for locations for the erection of permanent marks at the ends of a trial speed course for craft of the U. S. Navy. The proceedings were brought by District Attorney R. T. Whitehouse under direction of the Attorney General at Washington, to whom the matter was reported by the Secretary of the Navy.

The necessary notices were made on the owners of the land some months ago. Ellen W. Duryea of Westbury, Long Island, New York, as the owner of the land on Monroe Island, and Lewis Frederick Starrett and Lucy C. Farnsworth of Rockland, as the owners of the land on Sheep Island. Howard lives of Portland appeared as attorney for Ellen W. Duryea, and L. F. Starrett represented himself and Lucy C. Farnsworth, the latter becoming an interested party through the death of Mary Farnsworth, the original principal and owner of the land jointly with Mr. Starrett, who died since the institution of the proceedings and whose title reverts to Lucy Farnsworth.

Evidence was presented to show that each tract consists of about 1000 square feet and that $303.33 was a fair allowance for the land and that this amount was agreeable to the government and all parties concerned. The arguments were short and Judge Hale's charge was practically an instruction to the jury to render a verdict for the amounts stated.

In the matter of the land on Sheep Island L. F. Starrett being the owner of six-sevenths of the land was awarded $260 and Lucy Farnsworth $43.33 for her seventh. The awards were made the same in each case.

A BOSTON BURGLARY

In Which Former Rockland Women Lost Articles Valued at $350.

Burglars entered the apartments of Mrs. C. M. Keyes and her sister, Mrs. L. A. Starr, on Huntington avenue, Boston, Tuesday afternoon, while they were both out, and took articles to the value of $350.

They occupy a suite on the first floor of a three apartment house. When they returned home about 4 p. m., they found the door of the parlor leading to the hall unlocked and there was every indication that the rooms had been thoroughly ransacked by thieves in a most leisurely manner, for only such articles as could be easily carried away were taken. Every room had been visited and the thieves had timed their visit well for there was no one home from noon until late afternoon on either the first or the second floor although the family which occupy the top suite were in all day.

Among the articles stolen are $50 in money; gold watch, $50; pearl ring, $20; emerald ring, $60; diamond ring, $75; reading glasses, $3.50; pocket book, $4; clock, $5; pearl pin, $10; gold buttons, $10; traveling bag, $12; souvenir teaspoons, gold bowed glasses, $6; white kid shoes, white silk stockings; five pairs kid gloves; fur cape, $35, and many other articles.

They also took from the suite on the second floor, which is occupied by the landlady, a new overcoat, $6 in money, gold bowed spectacles and other small articles.

TESTING LOBSTER LAW

Maine lobster laws are to be tested as the result of the seizure of nearly 1000 "short" lobsters by fish wardens in Portland harbor last week when they boarded the Boston lobster smack C. B. Harrington which had been driven into the harbor by stress of weather. The lobsters, while of legal length in Maine waters would be legal for sale in Massachusetts. Isaac Harvey, owner of the smack, claims that as the state laws under which the action was taken provide that vessels officered and owned by non-residents can be seized and held to pay the fine, that the law is unconstitutional, from the fact that it discriminates between residents and non-residents, imposing upon non-residents a burden that it does not impose on residents of the state.

SEED LOBSTERS SCARCE

The gasoline launch Sheldrake, Capt. C. A. Packard, which has been taking the place of the fish commission steamer Gannet, has just turned over a cargo of seed lobsters for the U. S. hatchery at Boothbay.

The Sheldrake left Rockland Dec. 3 and since that time she has been to Boothbay, Portsmouth, N. H., Cape Porpoise, Kittery Point, Biddeford Pool and Portland. Capt. Packard says that the seed lobsters are rather scarce and that only about 300 were collected on the trip. He stated that many of the lobster fishermen have been unable to take up their traps owing to the severe weather, that many of the lobster fishermen have given up the work of catching the fish during the winter months and that some did not bother with the seed lobsters. As a result of the weather and the small number of fishermen engaged in catching lobsters at this season of the year few seed lobsters are obtainable.

Capt. Packard is of the opinion that a great many "short" or nine inch lobsters are being taken into Massachusetts from Maine by lobster fishermen engaged in the lobster business along the York county shore and he said today that the business of taking nine inch lobsters into Boston caused hard work for the men in the Sea and Shore Fisheries Department. "We are trying to induce the lobster fishermen to give up handling shorts entirely and I believe that a great many of the fishermen have complied with our request," said Capt. Packard.

In all the history of the prize ring, from Tom Cribb's time down to the present, there has never been recorded in a single year anything approaching the number of deaths directly due to boxing contests that have occurred thus far this season. The death at Presque Isle, last week, of Billy Dunning, one of the few boxers who could point to a draw with Jack Johnson, the world's heavyweight champion, made the 16th fatality of the prize ring in 1910.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT THAT MEANS SOMETHING

There is one especially good thing about a Christmas present of The Youth's Companion. It shows that the giver thought enough of you to give you something worth while.

It is easy to choose something costing a great deal more which is absolutely useless, but to choose a present costing only $1.75 that will provide a lifting companionship of the wise and great, is another matter. There is one present, however, which does just that—The Youth's Companion.

If you want to know whether it is appropriate or welcome, just visit the home of some Companion subscriber on Companion day.

Do not choose any Christmas present until you have examined the Companion. We will send you free sample copies for six months. The Companion is published weekly, and the beautiful Prospectus for 1911, telling something of how the Companion has recently been enlarged and improved.

The one to whom you give the subscription will receive free all the numbers of 1910 issued after the money is received; also The Companion's Art Calendar for 1911, lithographed in twelve colors and gold. These will be sent to reach the subscriber Christmas morning, if desired.

CHRISTMAS CHEER

Joyous, merry Christmas cheer;
The Holy Festival so dear
To us all on Christmas Day
While the Christmas bells are ringing,
And Christmas choirs are singing
Glory be to the new born King;
All the earth pauses to hear
The peace, good will, ring out so clear;
All the earth exults and sings
Glory be to the new born King.

Warden Norton, who goes into business at Belfast early the coming year, has put his motor car into winter quarters there, but is still house hunting. Rents are apparently as scarce in Belfast as they are in Rockland.

Adella F. Veazie is coaching a play to be produced at Rockland Theatre in the near future. H. D. Farnham, who has handled some of the successful local talent plays here, is manager, the cast of characters, date, etc., will be given to our readers soon.

The first basketball game of the season will be played Dec. 29, with the strong team of Auburn. After Jan. 1 one home game a week will be played. The schedule will include such teams as Bangor, Belfast, Portland, Bangor, etc.

The battleship Utah, which will probably be tried on the Rockland course in February, was 92.3 per cent completed the first of this month. Her sister ship, the Florida, is 85.5 per cent completed, and it will be well into the summer before she comes here.

The monthly meeting of the Methodist Brotherhood will be held at the church parlors next Monday evening. The usual supper will be served at 6.30 o'clock. Rev. R. C. Miller, who has been holding a series of meetings at the church, will address the members, taking for his subject "Some Civic Methods." Every member should make a special effort to be present.

A. with the following members: Lewis Clark, pianist; Harrison Sanborn, violin; Charles Rose, clarinet; Francis Havenner, clarinet; Atwood Smith, cornet; Alvin Drake, cornet; Harold Beverage, trombone; Arnold Richman, trap drum. Harrison Sanborn was elected as leader, and Francis Havenner as manager. The orchestra contains good players and is ready for engagements.

Many persons pause to inspect the south window of Allen's confectionery store, where there is now on exhibition a miniature full-rigged ship, which was fashioned with a jack knife by the late Capt. Henry Spaulding, while on a voyage around Cape Horn some 50 years ago. The ship is constructed with the same materials that were used in ship-building at that time. Much care and skill are shown in the workmanship. Thomas Griffin, Mr. Allen's candy-maker, is the present owner of the toy craft.

A UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT

Next Monday evening at the Pratt Memorial M. E. church, Rev. Renneets Miller of Hartford, Conn., who has been assisting the pastor in evangelistic meetings, will give his popular and well known "Lecture and Readings" on Oliver Wendell Holmes, the poet, novelist and humorist. Mr. Miller had a most interesting and famous past just a few months before his death. Mr. Miller gives quite a number of bright readings from Holmes' writings together with many brilliant specimens of Holmes' wit and humor. Literary critics of Boston and elsewhere pronounce this the best thing on the Autocrat ever heard by the public. It is thoroughly entertaining. At the same time he brings out much new information and light on this witliest of our great American poets. The admission is only 15 cents; children 14 and under, 10 cents.

"I am very much in favor of the one-session system for the high school," said a Lincoln street resident, yesterday. "For what reason?" inquired the reporter. "Well, it's just like this," he answered. "Under the present system the pupils run across my lawn four times a day. With one session they would do it only half as much."

Feminine basketball seems to be at a low ebb in this city just now. Have the Camden and Rockport girls also lost their spunk?

A well known Rockland politician is wearing a hat which cost him $50. It came from Boston this week. It can be seen almost any day by standing near the corner of Main and Spring streets.

The famous old racing and cruising yacht, Atalanta, once owned by William Waldorf Astor, has been purchased for use at this port as a gasoline tank vessel. The craft is now at Boothbay Harbor.

The firemen are having their uniforms pressed in anticipation of next Thursday night's mask gift ball, given by the American Hook & Ladder Co. It is expected to be one of the most successful levées ever given by a Rockland fire company.

The assignment of supreme court justices gives Knox county Judge Whitehouse for the January term, Judge Cornish for April and Judge King for September. The Lincoln assignments are Judge Whitehouse in April and Judge Bird in October.

The Senators-elect are having a conference in Augusta, when the machine will finish its job of side-tracking L. M. Staples for the presidency of that body. As a sop to his wounded feelings—and justly wounded, his friends believe—he will probably be offered the chairmanship of the judiciary committee.

Miss Martha B. May who has had charge of the East Maine Conference Seminary's experiment "The Model Home," is home for the Christmas recess. Thanks to her energy, thrift and strong personality it has proven a success. The Bangor News of Dec. 11 published an appreciative account of Miss May's work, illustrated by a picture of the Home and a portrait of Miss May.

John Moulaison is back from Boston's Mechanics Fair, whither the Street Railway Co. sent him as an observer of the latest innovations in the way of gas stoves, mantles, meters, etc. That he improved every moment of his stay is not to be doubted after listening to his enthusiastic account of manufacturing mantles, and is in a better position to know why a good mantle outlasts a dozen poor ones.

The school board has appointed one of its members, Cornelius Doherty, to the business interests of the city schools until Supt. G. A. Stuart shall have so far recovered as to again take up the reins of government. With the time at his disposal, the welfare of the department at hand, and the necessary business experience, Mr. Doherty is admirably fitted to take up these duties.

The board at its Wednesday night meeting took no action on the high school's petition for one session, but did discuss it informally. The members of the board between now and its next meeting will undertake to get the sentiment of the parents and some first hand information as to how the system operates in other Maine cities. The board desires to act fairly in the matter, and will consider it from every view-point before reaching a decision. It was voted to have the winter term open Tuesday, Jan. 3, in order that the teachers and pupils may take advantage of Monday which will be officially observed as New Year's Day.

Vaudeville artists who come to this city are often led to wonder whether they are playing to an audience of "solid ivory," or whether they have "lost their grip." Certain it is that the city has the reputation throughout the circuit for producing the most frigid audiences that exist this side of the North Pole. A good turn seldom elicits any demonstration save the applause given by the theatre attaches, and it is hardly to be wondered at that the artists go back into the wings and use language that exerts this side of the theatre than a Bowers tough. Artists who get a "big hand" in cities like Portland and Bangor do the same turns here amid a silence that would shock a tomb. In defence of uncouthness, it must be said that the public has so often been "stung" that it is over-cautious. But the point which the writer wishes to emphasize is this: Vaudeville artists cannot and will not do their best unless they find their efforts visibly appreciated. So long as we sit in the theatre like graven images we will not get our money's worth. Let's try applause for a change.

Rev. Mr. Miller, the Evangelist, will speak and sing at the Engine Hall, Highlands, Sunday afternoon at 2.45.

Floyd L. Shaw, the real estate agent, has sold for Mrs. Fremont Wilcher of Owl's Head, her farm property at Crescent Beach, to C. J. Hamilton, who buys for an investment.

G. A. Ames has leased the restaurant now occupied by James Welch, and will take possession in a few weeks. Mr. Welch will probably continue the restaurant business in another part of the city.

The formal opening of E. B. Burpee's new law offices in Farnsworth block will take place Saturday. Visitors will be welcomed from 4 to 6 p. m. Temperance refreshments will be served.

E. O. Philbrick & Son, agents for the Ford motor car, have sold a machine of the roadster type to J. H. Meserve, for ice cream delivery. The agents will gladly demonstrate to anyone calling at 632 Main street.

Rev. Renneets C. Miller will speak at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock upon "The Twenty-first Century Boy. Give Him a Chance." Mr. Miller has given this lecture in many of the largest cities of the country with great success and every man and boy in the city should hear him. Miss Ethel Payson and Harrison Sanborn will play a cornet and violin duet.

Tom Sawyer and Bartley Connolly are to meet at Manchester, N. H., this Friday evening in a 15-round contest, to determine for once and all which is entitled to pose as Maine's middle-weight boxer. Their many previous bouts have not offered much of a line as to which is superior; in fact the Maine law, which limits bouts to six weeks, does not afford much opportunity.

Harold, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter V. Hanscom, is a patient at the Emerson hospital in Boston, suffering from injuries received in a football game at Lebanon, N. H., on the Saturday following Thanksgiving Day. Young Hanscom was one of the half-backs of the Rockland (Vermont) Military Academy's team, and the star man of that eleven. Twice during the game he was kicked in the right leg, with what may have been a deliberate attempt to put him out of the game, but which must charitably be termed as an accident for lack of proof to the contrary. Dr. Hanscom was notified of the accident and went to Vermont with the intention of bringing his son home. The young man's condition became so serious, however, that Dr. Hanscom took him directly to Dr. H. B. Bickford's hospital, where 8 or 10 of Boston's best surgeons confess themselves puzzled to account for the strange condition of the wounded leg. The muscles absolutely refuse to obey their functions, yet nothing of a gangrenous nature has developed. There is strong hope that the leg may be saved and even restored to its normal condition, but the case is one that gives the young man's parents and friends much concern.

When I was down in Rockland at a convention not long ago I saw barrels of teeth which had been extracted in a local dentist's shop." This is what Dr. H. A. Kelley, president of the Northeastern Dental Association, wrote to scientists at Harvard Dental College, and he had reference to the shop established by the late Dr. A. M. Austin, March 20, 1874, now occupied by his successors, the firm of Austin & Bickford. Dr. Kelley stressed the matter a bit when he said he saw "barrels" of teeth, but he did see a very large quantity. The Harvard scientists, who are making a very careful research as to the effect of diseased children, have written to Austin & Bickford asking for all they have on hand, and yesterday The Courier-Gazette reporter was shown nearly two bushels of the food-cutters with the teeth on them to ship to the Harvard Dental College. There were many more of the teeth originally, but when the workmen tarred the roof of an adjoining building they made use of them in the mixture. The roof was also shown a book which, he was informed, contained records of nearly 8000 sets of false teeth, all of which have been made within the last 32 years by Dr. Maynard S. Austin. Dr. Haskell of Chicago, who saw the books, says that Dr. Austin's work probably constitutes a world's record.

AS A CHRISTMAS GIFT . . .

But think of the tired eyes they will relieve.

Of the extra work that could be done.

Of the Perfect Vision instead of dimmed objects, and make up your mind you would be OPENING UP A NEW WORLD to people who cannot see clearly, if you give them an order for glasses of my furnishing.

Investigate my plan.

MAKING GOOD FIGHT

Former Union Man, with Wardenship Aspirations, Has Strong Support.

Edgar S. Fossett of Portland was a visitor in the city last week. Mr. Fossett, who is a traveling man with many friends throughout the state, is a candidate for appointment as warden of the Maine State Prison which appointment will doubtless be one of the first that will be made by the incoming governor. Mr. Fossett states that he is receiving excellent support and showed a large number of endorsements. He has the support of the Portland wholesale houses in large numbers, this petition being headed by such names as Hon. Ammi Whitney, Hon. Leander Forbes, Hon. Oakley C. Curtis, Hon. Adam P. Leighton and Hon. Charles H. Randall. Leading the petition of Portland retailers are Frank M. Low, R. M. Lewsen, Hon. George Tolman and Robert M. Somers. His supporters from the members of the Cumberland county bar include such well known legal lights as ex-Justices Sewell C. Strout and Enoch Foster, Hon. M. P. Frank and Hon. George M. Seiders. To the Commercial Mr. Fossett said: "If appointed it will be my aim to give a better administration than Warden Norton, who has been a very efficient man."—Bangor Commercial.

FISHERMEN'S RIGHTS

New-Born Seiner Says a Word to the Weirman—Wants to Go Before the Legislature in Harmony.

Rockland, Dec. 12.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—We were born as you were born and want to live as you live. So, let us shake a friendly hand, go to Augusta, and try to regulate these laws, that they may be a benefit to all of us. Let's not throw the rope over the house and you get on one side and me on the other and pull.

I am going to ask you one question. Who raised the price of fish for you this season? The Seiner. I have never yet talked with a seiner who does not say that he wants the weirman to have what rightfully belongs to him. Take a reasonable distance from your weir and give the seiner the balance of the coast, for most of the fishing this year was where stakes for a weir could not be driven.

I have been cruising the coast of Maine since the first part of the season, for shad, mackerel and large herring. I have also spent eight years in vessels, seining mackerel, and never during that time have I seen so many small herring out off the coast as there were this season, but they did not come in near enough to the shore to be caught.

There is a much larger body of herring in West Penobscot Bay now than there has been at any time this season. As nearly all of the weirs are up very little is known about the herring at this time of year. Most people think that the herring are not here at this time. However, they get the wrong impression, they are here the year round. The largest school of small herring that I have ever seen was near North Haven in 1908, on the 12th day of March, so it's a sure thing that herring do not leave here in the winter, as some people seem to think.

If seining had been the old-time way of catching herring and the modern way weiring, the laws would have been much easier to adjust. However, it is not that way. As it is, the laws should be handled with great care and by some one who understands it, for, as we all know, it is one of the greatest industries on the Maine coast. As for the seiners: I have seen quite a lot of them this summer and I have heard them spoken of as outlaws. I found them to be intelligent, fair-minded people, with a heart as big as an ox. You will see some of them at Augusta when the fish question is brought up this winter.

Oliver Bowley may have said that he wanted to get his share of the fish for they would not last long, but, with the increase of fish, he has had to change his opinion.

I remember, in November, 1898, the lobster catchers had to go as far east as Machias, in order to get bait enough to last through the winter. We could not get any in Bluehill Bay. There were no seiners, at that time, to drive the fish out.

Now, when the men go to Augusta this winter to regulate the fish laws, if they will let both the seiner and the weirman have equal rights, they will get along all right. I intend to engage both occupations if allowed to do so by the laws. Henry Albee.

STEAMSHIP COMPANY WINS

A decision was handed down Friday in the Cumberland county case of Harry F. Hix of Rockland et al. vs. Eastern Steamship Co. in which exceptions are sustained by the Law Court. It is an action to recover damages from a common carrier for injuries sustained by a horse in being transported from Boothbay Harbor to Portland.

Held, that examination of the evidence leads to the indisputable conclusion that a special contract was entered into between the parties in this case and in consequence the defendant could not be liable for its own negligence or misconduct and not as an insurer at common law. Held, that the ruling of the presiding judge in submitting that question to the jury was erroneous, as it gave the jury an opportunity to find that there was no special contract and that therefore the defendant was liable at a common law, in other words to base the verdict for the plaintiff upon untenable grounds. Exceptions sustained.

NORTH HAVEN

At the last meeting of North Haven Grange the following officers were elected: Master, H. T. Crockett; overseer, J. A. Brown; Lecturer, Florence Brown; Steward, Albert Beverage; Chaplain, Aloin Carver; Sec., Alice Sampson; Gate Keeper, W. R. Dole; Treas., W. Sampson; Asst. Steward, Vernon Beverage; Lady Asst. Steward, Etta Beverage; Ceres, Nellie Brown; Pomona, Nellie Crockett; Flora, Carrie Lermond.

B. Walker McKee gave an interesting lecture in Union hall on Thursday evening of last week, to a good sized audience. His subject was "The Grange, its past, present and prospective."

Will Sampson has a number of men employed cutting wood.

ROCKPORT

THE CARNIVAL

The Advertising Carnival and Fair, held Saturday afternoon and evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, was largely attended and a success in every detail. The rooms were tastefully decorated with bunting and evergreen and at the left of the entrance of the gymnasium was a booth and bargain counter, presided over by Mrs. R. W. Carleton, where various articles were sold which were contributed by Rockland firms.

Mrs. Carleton was assisted by Miss May Thurston and Miss Cornelia Spear, who served peanut butter sandwiches contributed by J. T. Gould. At the right of the entrance in this room was an attractive booth of red and green in charge of Mrs. E. A. Morrill and Mrs. E. E. Fales, who demonstrated Chase & Sanborn's tea for the Rockport Ice Co. They were assisted by Miss Beulah Lane.

Another attractive booth was that presided over by Mrs. H. J. Cole which had for its color scheme red, and from which was served delicious coffee known as Shepherd's Superb. Other articles were exhibited at this booth including Educator Bran and fancy raisins. The assistants at this booth were Misses Ruby Nutt and Veda McKinney.

In the center of the room was a large table of fancy articles, many of which were made by the pupils of the school which displayed great genius. Special mention should be made of the raffia mats and baskets, many of them being made by the boys. Miss Fuller had charge of this table and was ably assisted by Miss Helen Piper, Ernest Gardner, Elizabeth Doucett, Agnes and Eva Studley and Eva Sherer.

Mrs. Martha Piper exhibited a line of Colgate's soaps, powders and perfumes, Knox Gelatine and Tournesades Kitchen Bouquet. Mrs. W. A. Weld, Mrs. Merle Annis were the assistants at this booth. A mystery tree was well patronized by both young and old, which was in charge of Miss Nana Turner and Miss Ruth Bowden. A fine line of home-made candies were sold from a booth of red and white by Misses Maerice Blackington, Elizabeth Arey, Georgia Marshall and Julia Clancy. Salted peanuts contributed by Luigi Carini of Rockland were also sold at this booth.

From still another booth, distributed by Stanley Shibles and enmesh Wooster all sorts of advertising matter, including Holeproof Hosiery, Books, papers and magazines, Toasted Corn Flakes, etc. Philip Tolman in Indian costume, advertised the Peerless Remedy Co., Rockport.

An interesting program was given in the afternoon by the members of the grammar school. The Victor Talking Machine from the Maine Music Co., Rockland, furnished selections during the afternoon and evening. A supper was served in the banquet hall for the benefit of the scholars who lived at a distance.

The committee in charge were Misses Minnie Sullivan, Ruth Hunter, Carleen Brazier, Alfred and Martin Sullivan. The evening program consisted of selections by the Allegro Violin Quartet, Mrs. Samuel Tibbets director, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Mary Knight Andrews. The net proceeds were $50, and certainly both the teachers, A. Y. Stevens and Miss Carrie Fuller, the pupils who have worked so faithfully are to be congratulated. The event was one of the best of its kind ever held in the town.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you have best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CAPT. JAMES WATTS

Death of Prominent Thomaston Mariner Who Had Brilliant Career Afloat and Ashore—The Near Tragedy of the Ship John T. Berry.

Capt. James Watts, a Knox county shipmaster who had visited many foreign ports, and who subsequently had extensive business affairs in Oregon, died in Thomaston late Tuesday night, aged 48 years. Funeral services will be held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. C. A. Leighton, this Friday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Newcombe, D. D., officiating.

Capt. Watts was born in Thomaston, Oct. 25, 1862. At the age of 16 he shipped as cabin boy on the bark Martha A. Mitchell, Capt. W. O. Masters. Four years later he assumed his first command, the ship John T. Berry, whose destruction off the coast of Australia in 1888 was attended by circumstances which nearly terminated the young mariner's career. The John T. Berry was a wooden ship of 1349 tons, and at the time of her ill-fated voyage was laden with paraffine oil, bound from Philadelphia for Hioaga, Japan. With this combustible cargo under her keel, and 97 days out from port, fire broke out at 10 p. m. Knowing that the craft's destruction was a matter of only a short time, Capt. Watts summoned all hands on deck and in less than 15 minutes had two boats lowered which were hurriedly provisioned with tinned meat and biscuits, some fresh water being passed over the stern in a kerosene oil barrel. This work had hardly been finished when there was a terrible explosion from the docks burst and a huge volume of flame shot up the fore-rigging. Expecting momentarily that his men would be blown to pieces, Capt. Watts ordered the boats cut away.

Sail was hoisted with the intention of making the nearest shore, which was more than 500 miles distant. The boat commanded by Second Mate Anderson was soon lost to sight. During the first four days Capt. Watts and his companions endured suffering, the heavy sea threatening each instant to engulf them. Twice the boat was nearly swamped, and the heroic work of the sailors was all that kept free. Sleepless and discouraged, with the shore still several hundred miles away, the castaways were soon confronted with another trouble. The wind which had favored the boat in making the Australian coast fell away to a calm and the boat was left lolling about in a rough sea. The sailors were kept continually busy. The food supply was ample, but the allowance of water had been reduced to two mouthfuls a day, and the men suffered greatly from thirst. The intense heat raised large blisters on their faces and hands, causing the skin to peel. On the sixth night Solitary Island was sighted but Capt. Watts did not deem it prudent to land there, and kept away from the shore. Off Nambucca river the next day the sea was found to be exceedingly rough and a tug came in response to distress signals.

Capt. Watts, who was part owner of the ship, lost about $12,000 through the disaster.

Capt. Watts soon afterwards passed an examination for steam craft, which permitted him to take a position as third officer on the Steamship City of Paris, running between New York and Liverpool. Going back to his first love, he took the ship Baring craft, and Brothers from New York to San Francisco and after leaving her at the latter port took command of the Barkentine Consuelo, sailing between San Francisco and Honolulu. His next command was the Barkentine Chehalis, which was built for him by the Simpsons of San Francisco, and in which he engaged in the lumber carrying trade on the West Coast. The close of his seafaring career found him first officer on the Steamer Columbia, sailing between San Francisco and Portland, Ore.

Becoming a landsman Capt. Watts was nevertheless not fully weaned from his nautical inclination, and it was as a member of the well known stevedore firm of Brown & McCarty that he made his debut as a business man. He was thus engaged for 10 years, retiring soon after the death of his partner, Mr. Brown, which was a deep blow to him. Relieved of active business cares, Capt. Watts turned to the orchard in the famous Hood River region, Oregon. One of these fruit ranches contained 80 acres and the other about 30.

Soon afterwards his health became such that he was compelled to abandon his orchard, and he came to Thomaston where he had made his home until very recently, with his sister, Mrs. Leighton. Capt. Watts was the owner of a fine residence in Portland, Oregon. It is now the property of his nephew, who has many marine pictures of which he was very fond. A chronometer, which was one of the few effects rescued from the ship John T. Berry, occupied a conspicuous position in one of the apartments of this home.

In the Oregon metropolis Capt. Watts occupied a position of extreme prominence, and was regarded as a business affairs entirely, keenness and ability. He was a life member of the Commercial Club, the leading business men's organization of the city, and belonged to the Elks and Mystic Shrine. He was pre-eminently domestic in his tastes, and a lover of the beautiful wherever found. Social and attractive in his personality, the city lost a valued resident when he was attacked by the mortal disease that finally wasted his life and strength away.

Capt. Watts died at 10 o'clock, Oct. 17, 1899, to Carrie W. Counce, daughter of B. Webb Counce, one of Thomaston's most prominent citizens. She survives, together with one sister, Mrs. C. A. Leighton of Thomaston, and one brother, Capt. N. B. Jordan, a famous shipmaster, now residing in Southampton, England. Capt. Jordan spent six months of the present year with his brother at Thomaston.

Miss Fuller possesses natural ability in music, has worked faithfully and is already becoming quite popular in public playing in her own town. With her ability and careful up-to-date instruction much is expected for a future musical career.

There are other music pupils of Miss Cole's that are doing creditable work and diplomas will be presented them as soon as they complete their respective grades. During the evening A. N. Sprague of Washington and Mr. T. L. Sprague, (a former pupil of Prof. Thieme) and R. G. Clark played cornets with piano accompaniments and gave selections that were appreciative.

The monthly meeting of the Congregational Fraternity Thursday evening brought out about 50 members, in spite of the blizzard. The warm vestry and the bountifully laden tables offered good cheer and the men spent a very delightful hour in the discussion of the good things offered. The piece de resistance was a lobster stew, which was lacking in neither ingredients nor skill to make it "the best ever." The stew was flanked by plain lobster, escalloped potatoes, cold meats, pastry, coffee, etc.

The housekeepers were Mrs. F. J. Simonton, Mrs. E. M. Stubbs, Mrs. C. F. Wood, Mrs. Henry Bird, Mrs. L. F. Starrett, Mrs. D. J. Stryker and Mrs. Mary Allen. When the cigars were lighted and chairs pushed back, President Knight presented the "entertainment," which proved to be Hilton, the comedy juggler, connected with the Bennett-Moulton Co. Miss Frances Paladino officiated as pianist. The juggler made a decided hit being applauded from start to finish.

"SEVEN TABLE SALE"

Ladies of First Baptist Church Netted About $235 from Wednesday's Fair.

The ladies of the First Baptist church did a good chore Wednesday afternoon and evening by netting $235 from their "seven table sale." They do not dignify the event by the title of annual fair, and the results are especially gratifying when it is taken into consideration that the preliminary work covered a period of only a few short weeks.

Seven periods of a life time were represented at the tables on which fancy articles etc. were displayed for sale. They were as follows:

Infants' table—Mrs. A. W. Benner, Mrs. W. J. Day, Mrs. V. A. Leach, Mrs. Donald Karl and Miss Aimee Karl.

Housewives' table—Mrs. R. C. Hall, Mrs. A. R. Jordan, Mrs. E. J. Southard, Mrs. Carrie Duncan, Mrs. Frank Post and Mrs. Laforest Hall.

Grandfathers' table—Mrs. S. M. Bird, Mrs. C. E. Rising, Mrs. F. J. Bicknell, Mrs. J. R. Erskine and Mrs. Francis Tighe.

While these tables were doing a land-office business other busy members of the Ladies' Circle were engaged in preparing the supper, which was served on the European plan to a large number of patrons. The menu included chicken pie, lobster salad, cabbage salad, cold meats, baked beans, cake and coffee.

Mrs. W. V. Hanscom was chairman of the supper committee, her assistants being Mrs. M. P. Judkins, Mrs. Frank B. Miller, Mrs. J. A. Richards, Mrs. Geo. Brewster, Mrs. Fred Leach, Mrs. Frank Ulmer, Mrs. R. L. Thompson, and Mrs. A. H. Newbert. Mrs. Richan had charge of the dining room. The following young ladies made a very efficient corps of waiters, Gletta Wilson, Rose Prescott, Gladys Blethen, Kathie Keating, Althea Field, Elizabeth Fuller, Edna Carter, Lucy Karl, Vivien Foss, Agnes Smith and Florence Thomas.

Mrs. E. B. Ingraham was chairman of the "Seven Table Sale," the success of which furnished further proof of her ability in that department of church work.

Miss Carrie Brainerd superintended the decorations, which were in keeping with the holiday season—red and green. Mrs. Frank B. Miller was cashier in addition to her services as chairman of the press committee.

ROCKLAND THEATRE

The H. Wilnot Young and Marjorie Adams Company will open an engagement of one week beginning Dec. 26, at Rockland Theatre. They will be with great interest that our local theatre-goers learn of this company's engagement. Mr. Young has this year made a special effort to select his company from actors and actresses who are ladies and gentlemen on and off the stage, with wardrobe that will be a revelation to the patrons of popular-priced attractions. The plays presented will be the latest New York successes that appeal to an enlightened and intelligent mind and in addition to an excellent dramatic show, specialties will be interspersed between the acts. There will be special features by the very best vaudeville talent direct from New York's leading theatres. The opening play will be Under the Bear's Paw.

In the excitement of Christmas shopping, one is apt to need a bright entertainment as a relaxation from the perplexities of the tours among the shops, and Dreamland offers just such a show Friday evening, as will appeal to all amusement lovers. The feature picture is The Sepoy's Wife, a beautiful production by the Vitaphone Co. of a very interesting story of the American Indian mystery. Another feature is the Child of the Squadron, a picture that is sure to appeal to every mother, also four others that are sure to please all lovers of moving pictures. Two sweet songs, beautifully illustrated by a popular young artist complete the varied bill.
